Confirmation Language of Instruction

To whom it may concern,

This is to confirm that in our master's program in Medical Engineering, the language of instruction of the three specializations "Medical Image and Data Processing", "Health and Medical Data Analytics" and "Medical Robotics" is English. Therefore, students who were admitted to our Medical Engineering program for one of the mentioned specializations are not required to prove any German skills. Notwithstanding, German skills are highly recommended to ensure the student's successful integration into the German job market as well as the university community.

Kind regards,

Claudia Barnickel
Study Coordinator Medical Engineering
